WELCOME FROM BEALTAINE FESTIVAL ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Each year we aim to put together a Bealtaine Festival that is enjoyable, inspiring, and sometimes challenging. We also wish to bring people together to connect and jointly explore our personal and political worlds. In 2019, on the eve of our 25th anniversary, we believe we have created a diverse festival which includes choral performances exploring aspects of hospitality, exhibitions looking at the role of memory in our lives, workshops and discussion considering the development of creativity as we age, as well as the darker sides of ageing. At the base of all of this, however, is a celebration of ageing and of ourselves as artistic creative people. Have a great Bealtaine!

Dr. Tara Byrne

SPECIAL EVENTS

Bealtaine @ International
Museums Day

18 MAY
VENUES NATIONWIDE

In an exciting new development, Age & Opportunity's Bealtaine Festival is partnering with The Ireland National Committee of the International Council of Museums (ICOM) to celebrate International Museums Day (May 18th) as part of the annual Bealtaine Festival 2019. Part of a wider global celebration involving 37,000 institutions in 158 countries, International Museums Day will see events taking place all over museums and cultural institutions in Ireland to specially highlight Bealtaine for 2019.

This year’s ICOM theme, The Future of Tradition highlights the importance of intergenerational learning and the role museums play in safeguarding and promoting engagement with our heritage, as well as looking to our future heritage. Reminiscence sessions, transcription events (transcribathons) and talks on hidden histories are just some of the fantastic events you can enjoy in museums across the island as part of this special festival. Look out for special Bealtaine events in a museum near you.

Strength in Numbers / An Intergenerational Bicycle Gang

VENUE: Dublin City
DATE: 17 May
TIME: 2pm - 4pm
CONTACT: For more information and venue details contact bikegangdublin@gmail.com

Working with James Ó hAodha, a group of older people from across Dublin have formed a bicycle gang, developing a unique look, gang tactics, and cultivating notoriety. Come along and witness this seasoned gang descend on the city, or bring your own bicycle and join them in cruising, loitering, and making your presence felt in this dynamic performance event. All ages and abilities welcome. This work is commissioned by Michelle Browne as part of The Citizen Cycle series of participative arts commissions produced to coincide with the Velo-City International Cycling Conference in June and is funded by The Arts Council, Watershed's Creative Producers International Investment Fund, Dublin City Council and Age & Opportunity (through EIT Health and TCD’s MoveAGE).

Intergenerational Creative Engagement @ DCU

VENUE: DCU Glasnevin Student Hub, Dublin 9
DATE: 10 May
TIME: 11am – 12.30pm
TICKETS: Free, drop in. For more information contact christine.okelly@dcu.ie

This event is the result of intergenerational collaboration between transition year students from Maryfield College, and St. Aidan's Secondary School with participants from the Age-Friendly University Programme in DCU. Initially, this group met to examine and share how music acts as a method of coping with transition, for example love and loss. In Spring 2019 the group worked with Fighting Words to examine how music is composed and together they developed a new piece of music. This event discusses the process and a performance of the musical piece they co-created.

Afternoon Tea Party @ Saint Joseph's, Shankill

VENUE: Saint Josephs, Shankill, Co. Dublin
DATE: 29 May
TIME: 2pm - 3.30pm
TICKETS: Open to local community, friends and family. Contact siobhan.grant@sjog.ie for more details.

An Afternoon Tea Party will celebrate the wonderful Tea House Project that was undertaken by the Fairland Collective as part of Age & Opportunity's 2018 Artist in Residence in a Care Setting initiative, in Saint Joseph's Shankill. The focus was on collaborative and immersive creative activity based around 'Tea' and 'Tea drinking'. The project developed a multi-sensory space for drinking tea within Saint Joseph's, full of colours and rich in smells, but familiar. It celebrated the everyday ritual of drinking tea and has left a lovely physical legacy of mugs, tea pots, tea caddies and tea towels that can be enjoyed by all. We look forward to welcoming the Fairland Collective back in May, so all the people living here and their families can reminisce over a lovely cup of tea!
Bealtaine @ Temple Bar

18 MAY

Bealtaine @ Temple Bar continues in 2019 with the theme of Be Our Guest being taken to the heart of cultural institutions in the Temple Bar quarter, where the work of older artists’, access for older audiences and family friendly activities are put to the fore. Happening over one day in May (Saturday 18) Bealtaine @ Temple Bar invites you to come, see our Bealtaine artist perform around the streets of the Bar, visit our venues, learn, talk, play and of course drink tea!

Events take place at venues all over Temple Bar from 10.30am - 5pm. A specially commissioned artist’s performance will take place in the Temple Bar environs from 2pm - 4pm and at 4pm join us for a tea party at Crampton Square to round off the day!

Standing on the Shoulders of Giants: Pat McCabe, Nicole Flattery & Danny Denton

VENUE: Smock Alley Theatre, Dublin 8
DATE: 20 May
TIME: 6pm
TICKETS: €10/€8, booking through www.ilfdublin.com

Join us for a conversation between writers Nicole Flattery and Pat McCabe, a key literary influence of hers, chaired by writer Danny Denton. Over the course of an hour and a half, this event will explore the artistic and interdependent ecosystem that characterises creativity and the rich and various sources from which artists draw their inspiration. This conversation is essentially a celebration of the influence of writers upon each other across generations, as well as offering personal reflections on age and ageing. This event is organised with the support of International Literature Festival Dublin.

Patrick McCabe is a writer from County Monaghan. His books include The Butcher Boy and Breakfast on Pluto which were both shortlisted for the Booker Prize. Patrick’s latest novel Heartland was published by New Island Books in April 2018.

Nicole Flattery is a Galway-based writer. She is the winner of the 2017 White Review Short Story Prize. Her debut story collection Show Them a Good Time is published by The Stinging Fly Press in Ireland and Bloomsbury in the UK.

Danny Denton is a writer from Cork. His first novel, The Earlie King & The Kid In Yellow, was published by Granta Books in 2018, and nominated for Newcomer of the Year at the Irish Book Awards.
The Bealtaine Book Club:

Éilís Ní Dhuibhne
Twelve Thousand Days

VENUE: Book clubs & libraries around Ireland
DATE: Month of May

In 2018, Libraries around Ireland got together to nominate Éilís Ní Dhuibhne as the Bealtaine Book Club author for 2019, with her book, Twelve Thousand Days (2018) as the Bealtaine Book. The Bealtaine Book Club honours and promotes an Irish writer with a distinguished and lengthy career who has made a significant contribution to literature. Twelve Thousand Days concerns the author’s 30 year relationship with husband and folklorist Bo Almquist who died in 2013. Twelve Thousand Days is published by Blackstaff Press.

Éilís Ní Dhuibhne in conversation

VENUE: Irish Writers Centre,
19 Parnell Square, Dublin 1
DATE: 22 May
TIME: 4pm - 5.30pm
TICKETS: €8 & €7 concession / www.ifdfdublin.com

This event features a conversation between writer Éilís Ní Dhuibhne and Martin Doyle (Irish Times) exploring Éilis' work and career. The event is in association with the International Literature Festival Dublin and with the Irish Writers Centre's Ambassador Series. The Bealtaine Writers’ Group in residence at IWC will contribute to the event with a reading of new works inspired by Éilís' work.

Artists’ Lives
If I knew then what I know now...

VENUE: DanceHouse, Foley St, Dublin 1
DATE: 16 May
TIME: 2.30pm – 4.30pm
TICKETS: Free, but booking advised through www.artistslives2019.eventbrite.ie

Join dance artist Joan Davis, traditional fiddle player Antóin Mac Gabhann, writer Éilís Ní Dhuibhne, composer and performer Ronan Guilfoyle, and visual artist Annabel Konig to discuss five significant and celebrated arts careers. Over the course of an afternoon, these inspirational artists will come together with Chair, RTÉ culture and arts producer Clíodhna Ní Anluain, to discuss the milestones, challenges and choices made by them as artists in Ireland. The event aims to offer an insight into the factors faced by many artists during their careers and to celebrate their ultimate success through talent and tenacity. As such, Artists’ Lives will be of interest to those embarking on their own careers as artists in varied disciplines, experienced artists interested in hearing about different life-choices, pathways and pitfalls, and other wider publics interested in how artists live and work.

Éilís Ní Dhuibhne was born in Dublin. She was educated at University College Dublin and has a BA in English and a PhD in Irish Folklore. She worked for many years as a librarian and archivist in the National Library of Ireland and has been Writer Fellow in Trinity College and University College Dublin. The author of more than twenty five books, including six collections of short stories, several novels, children’s books, plays and many scholarly articles and literary reviews, her work includes The Dancers Dancing, The Shelter of Neighbours, and Fox, Swallow, Scarecrow. Her most recent books are Selected Stories (Dalkey Archive, 2017) and Twelve Thousand Days. A Memoir. (Blackstaff, 2018). Éilis is also an Irish Writers Centre Ambassador.

This event is presented in association with the Irish Writers Centres’ Ambassador programme.
Bealtaine Discussion: The Physical Impossibility of Death in the Mind of Someone Living, a conversation on death and dying.

VENUE: First Floor Seminar Room, Mercer’s Institute for Successful Ageing, ST. James Hospital, Dublin 8
DATE: 9 May
TIME: 2.30pm – 4.30pm
TICKETS: Admission Free, spaces limited.
www.bealtainediscussion2019.eventbrite.ie

The discussion will be chaired by Prof. Philip Napier (Head of Fine Art NCAD) and feature:
Dr. Anne Marie O’Dwyer (psychiatrist), Dr. Kevin Atherton (artist),
Marie Brett (artist),
Dana Walrath (artist and fellow with the Global Brain Health Institute, TCD),
Dr. Laurence McKeown (playwright and former hunger-striker),
Senator Marie Louise O’Donnell (author of Finite Lives, Dying Death and Bereavement- an examination of state services in Ireland).

Taking inspiration from Damien Hirst’s iconic shark in formaldehyde sculpture The Physical Impossibility of Death in the Mind of Someone Living (1991), this multidisciplinary discussion will explore how we conceive, imagine, understand, process and articulate the difficult subject of death and dying. Through the diverse eyes of artists, academics and medics, as well as personal testimony, we hope to examine and shed light on our peculiar capacities, perceptions, taboos, fetishes, fears and even shame around conversations on death.

This discussion has been organised by Bealtaine in partnership with Mercer’s Institute of Successful Ageing, the National College of Art and Design and the Irish Museum of Modern Art.

Comhrá bás, cáca agus cupán!

VENUE: Creative Life Area, Ground Floor, Mercer’s Institute for Successful Ageing, St. James Hospital, Dublin 8
DATE: 9 May
TIME: 12pm – 2pm
TICKETS: Admission Free, spaces limited.
www.comhrabas.eventbrite.ie

Join the Irish Hospice Foundation to drink tea, eat cake and take some time to think, talk and tell each other what really matters. Talking about death and dying is rarely easy but when we consider that whatever stage of life we are at, death is usually with us in one way or another – it is perhaps something we should think about more often.

Modes of Capture: A panel discussion exploring the capturing of process in contemporary dance-making as an introduction to the forthcoming Modes of Capture symposium

VENUE: Project Arts Centre, Space Upstairs, Temple Bar, Dublin 1
DATE: 12 May
TIME: 4pm – 5.15pm
TICKETS: Admission Free, booking required
www.dublindancefestival.ie

Join us for a discussion on the process of dance-making with seasoned dance professionals. Dr Jenny Roche hosts a panel discussion with Dr Linda Murray, Curator of the Dance Archive at the New York Public Library for Performing Arts; Dr Finola Cronin, Lecturer in Drama Studies at University College Dublin; and Val Bourne CBE, Founder/Artistic Director, Dance Umbrella, London and Founding Board Member, Dublin Dance Festival. This event introduces the upcoming Modes of Capture Symposium which takes place at the University of Limerick, 21 – 23 June 2019. The symposium aims to explore the means of capturing creative process to engage with the layers, threads, fragments and memories that interweave throughout the process of dance-making.

The symposium, as well as this introductory event is presented by Liz Roche Company, Dublin Dance Festival, The Irish World Academy of Music and Dance and Bealtaine.
The Dawn Chorus is a nationwide choral event in which older people come together with a choir in their locality and sing at dawn to welcome the day. We encourage choirs and active retirement groups throughout Ireland to participate in the Dawn Chorus, by putting on their own local event on any date in May that works for them. This year, after a successful inaugural event in 2018, we also invite choirs to host a Dusk Chorus, which takes place at sunset.

In 2019, to highlight the many choirs and singing groups organising events each year, Bealtaine held an open call for a Flagship Choir. Aspiro, led by Mary Amond O’Brien in Carlow was selected for their inclusive and intergenerational approach. We are delighted to invite you to join Aspiro at the Dawn & Dusk Chorus Flagship events.

In 2018, the festival commissioned Tom Lane to compose a piece of music especially for the Dawn Chorus. This year we invite choirs to showcase this piece, the Little Waves of Breffny, within their Dawn Chorus programme.
Bealtaine Commission:
Abair/Samaa – An intercultural choral performance

Abair/Samaa is a newly commissioned intercultural choral performance by musical director Eimear Crehan, singer songwriter Farah Elle and theatre maker Rachel Bergin. Inspired by the festival's theme of welcome and hosting, Kilcock Men's Shed Choir and Libyan singer Farah Elle come together to perform traditional sounds from Ireland and North Africa.

Through the common language of music Abair/Samaa (Speak/Listen) explores the connected themes of tradition, identity, otherness and emigration. Musical performances are intercut with moments of personal and historical reflections across generations, cultures and genders.

Abair/Samaa is commissioned by Age & Opportunity as part of the nationwide 2019 Bealtaine Festival and is supported by Kildare County Council and produced by Brokentalkers.

One month before his death, retired civil servant and man of few words Paddy O’Grady had a sudden urge to talk. Using a cassette tape recorder he recorded 15 hours of material: absurd fictional stories; musings on life, love and death and memories of life as a civil servant.

Paddy’s granddaughter, Emma O’Grady, later discovered he had written plays and poems in the 1950s and until now his work has been without an audience. This critically-acclaimed show about emotional inheritance and grief for wasted creativity examines the fragile personas we present to the world, who we might be behind them and what we could be instead.

Supported by the Arts Council.

*Captioned performance at 8pm. Please let box office know if you require a seat suitable for captioning. A pre-show Touch Tour and Introductory Programme Notes (large print and audio) will be available for all performances. Please let box office know if you would like to book a Touch Tour or receive Programme Notes. Accessible performances are provided in partnership with Arts & Disability Ireland.
Bealtaine Commission:
CoisCéim BROADREACH | THE DOOR
Led by Philippa Donnellan

There is a door. It has a handle and a lock. It can be easy or difficult to open. Depending, of course, on which side of the door you are on, who opens it and why. Should it be flung open wide? Opened just enough to see who is there? Or – kept firmly closed?

The Door is a dance theatre & performance project open to people aged 50+. Imaginative and provocative, The Door embraces the Bealtaine festival’s theme of hospitality and what it means as we age. The project begins with creative dance workshops in Dublin and beyond and culminates in a special tea dance celebration in May 2019. All are welcome!

Creative Dance Workshops
VENUE: CoisCéim Studio. 14 Sackville Place, Dublin 1
DATES: 29 April, 6, 13, 20 May
TIME: 6.00pm – 7.30pm
TICKETS: €5 per person/session. Contact us for additional fee options. Drop in, no booking necessary.

Do you love to dance? Are you curious about choreography? Informal, energising and fun, these workshops invite you to take part in easy dance sequences to music of all kinds, exchange stories and ideas around the theme, and discover a few original moves of your own.

Dancing Through The Door | A Celebration Tea Dance
VENUE: The Pillar Room, Rotunda Hospital, Parnell Street, Dublin 1
(Wheelchair accessible)
DATE: 26 May
TIME: 2pm – 4.30pm
TICKETS: Free, booking advised through www.thedoorteaparty.eventbrite.ie

Whether you take part in the workshops or not – we invite you to come and join the fun! Share your experiences and if you wish, try some of the choreography created during the workshops. There’ll be some fabulous music and a cuppa tea and biscuits for all! The Door will continue with other creative dance-theatre opportunities later in the year and will end with a specially devised performance by participants in May 2020.

VISUAL ARTS

HOSPITABLE ACTIONS: Visual arts events around Ireland

_ Hospitable Actions _ brings the Bealtaine Festival into the fold of some of the country’s leading visual arts organisations, many of whom programme Bealtaine events independently. These venues were invited to prioritise programming older artists through events that reflect ageing or the festival theme _Be Our Guest_, providing a rich overview of both international and Irish artists across generations. Working with our host venues around the country, we’ve created a dynamic series of events including, talks, workshops and exhibitions throughout May.

The key was always in the door is a new film poem that has been commissioned for the Bealtaine festival in partnership with The Glucksman, University College Cork. For Bealtaine 2019, artist Collette Nolan and poet Gerry Murphy have collaborated closely with members of the Ballyphehane/Togher Community to produce a film and writings that question ideas around hospitality, home and the practice of “hosting” or being “hosted” - in the context of the community's personal situations. The community has generated the ‘content’ of the work in tandem with the artist and writer through collaborative workshops hosted by The Glucksman. The workshops included writing, storytelling, film and photography.

Bealtaine Commission: Electric Irish Homes Textile Project, Open Day

DATE: 30 May (open day) and July 2019
TIME: 2.00pm – 4.00pm
TICKETS: 094 9031751 / education@museum.ie

The Electric Irish Homes Textile Project is an artist-led initiative with Sligo based artist Anna Spearman, in which a group of older women explore and respond to the themes of Irish rural electrification. The commission sought to develop ways of interpreting Dr. Sorcha O’Brien’s (Kingston University) research on the significant impact of Irish rural electrification on Irish housewives and their homes during the 1950s and 1960s. An Open Day will take place on May 30th where people will be invited to hear more about this exciting project, to meet the participants, and to look at some of the work they have created along with a short video documenting the project by Brian Cregan.

Central to this project, and opening in July 2019, is an exhibition called Kitchen Promises, which explores this subject matter further. This is a National Museum of Ireland - Country Life exhibition in partnership with Dr Sorcha O’Brien, Kingston University, funded by the Arts & Humanities Research Council, UK.

This year’s Professional Development event will provide insights and practical advice for artists on the following topics: Archiving your work and How to use social media effectively in your practice.

Panel speakers include: Abigail O’Brien (President of the RHA) and Darragh Doyle (Social Media Strategist). The panel will be chaired by Aisling Prior. In addition, artists Susan Buttner, Denis Kelly and Anne Ensom will present their work and discuss their arts practice in a special artists Show & Tell session.
Limerick Commission with Isolde Donohoe and Bernadette Cotter - Poem 2019

VENUE: Limerick City Gallery of Art
DATE: 30 August

Over the last year, performance artists Bernadette Cotter and Isolde Donohoe have been developing a new collaborative performance work entitled Poem. This piece will be presented live at Limerick City Gallery of Art in August 2019. Wearing specially created outfits, the artists will ‘inhabit’ the gallery spaces to explore the texture of communication between each other, the audience and the architecture of the building.

Age & Opportunity KCAT Engagement Residency

VENUE: KCAT, Callan, Co. Kilkenny
DATE: March & April

KCAT is a multi-disciplinary Arts Centre dedicated to the fostering and nurturing of creative ambition and professional development in the arts.

The aim of the Bealtaine Engagement Residency at KCAT is to foster relationships between individual studio artists with fellow professionals working in Ireland to develop creative collaborative partnerships. In 2019 artists Paul Mosse and Kathryn O’Brien are the nominated Bealtaine artists.

BE OUR GUEST! BEALTAINE 2019
Age & Opportunity is the national organisation that provides a range of opportunities for older people who want to get more involved in arts and culture, sport and physical activity, civic engagement and personal development. We work with local communities and organisations across the country to run a range of programmes and activities in these three areas.

The Bealtaine Festival, an Age & Opportunity Arts initiative, is one of our flagship events and has been celebrating the arts and creativity as we age since 1995.

The festival continues to grow with the support and collaboration of our partners and hundreds of organisers throughout the country, as well as all those who attend a Bealtaine event. We are grateful to all those who organised events and we hope that Bealtaine 2019 will inspire everyone it touches.

Bealtaine Ambassadors

In 2018, we re-launched the Bealtaine Ambassadors initiative by inviting three celebrated artists to take up the mantle for three years. These artists were chosen as exemplars of how our creative potential can improve as we age. Now in their second year as Ambassadors, these artists continue to demonstrate what life-long creativity means with their thoughtful contributions to the festival and its associated events as well as illustrating how creative potential can grow, through their own practice.

Jane O Leary

Music has always been a part of my life – but it is also something that continually evolves and challenges me, enriches and excites me. As a composer, performer, listener - I find I am always learning, trying to improve, deepening my appreciation of other creative artists, and perhaps most importantly – enjoying communicating with others.

Mary Nunan

As a dance artist in my 60s I find that my desire to make work is still strong. Enough. A bigger challenge is that of finding supportive contexts in which to create and share this work. In this regard, Bealtaine has played a vital role for me as an artist. The care and commitment that the team brings to every aspect of their programme is inspiring. These are the conditions that are necessary for the arts to flourish.

Cathal O’Neill

I am aged 88 and have had the opportunity to work all my life at what I love: Architecture. My architect son returned from London in 1989 to join my practice which enables me to continue doing what I most like. They say old architects don’t die – they just draw their conclusion.
